HON. A. K. McCLURE, Philadelphia, Solicitor.

The Chinese Government having (through the Hon. Anson Burlingame) conceded to this Company the privilege of connecting the great seaports of the Empire by submarine electric telegraph cable, we propose commencing operations in China, and laying down a line of nine hundred miles at once, between the following ports, viz:

	Population.
Canton	1,000,000
Macoa	60,000
Hong-Kong	250,000
Swatow	200,000
Amoy	250,000
Foo-Chow	1,250,000
Wan-Chu	300,000
Ningpo	400,000
Hang Chean	1,200,000
Shanghai	1,000,000
Total	5,910,000

These ports have a foreign commerce of $900,000,000, and an enormous domestic trade, besides which we have the immense internal commerce of the Empire, radiating from these points, through its canals and navigable rivers.

The cable being laid, this company proposes erecting land lines, and establishing a speedy and trustworthy means of communication, which must command there, as everywhere else, the communications of the Government, of business, and of social life especially in China. She has no postal system, and her only means now of commuuicating information is by couriers on land, and by steamers on water.

The Western World knows that China is a very large country, in the main densely peopled; but few yet realize that she contains more than a third of the human race. The latest returns made to her central authorities for taxing purposes by the local magistrate make her population Four hundred and Fourteen millions, and this is more likely to be under than over the actual aggregate. Nearly all of these, who are over ten years old, not only can but do read and write. Her civilization is peculiar, but her literature is as extensive as that of Europe. China is a land of teachers and traders; and the latter are exceedingly quick to avail themselves of every proffered facility for procuring early information. It is observed in California that the Chinese make great use of the telegraph, though it there transmits messages in English alone. To-day great numbers of fleet steamers are owned by Chinese merchants, and used by them exclusively for the transmission of early intelligence. If the telegraph we propose connecting all their great seaports, were now in existence, it is believed that its business would pay the cost within the first two years of its successful operation, and would steadily increase thereafter

No enterprise commends itself as in a greater degree renumerative to capitalists, and to our whole people. It is of vast national importance commercially, politically and evangelically.

☞ The stock of this Company has been unqualifiedly recommended to capitalists and business men, as a desirable investment by editorial articles in the New York Herald, Tribune, World, Times, Post, Express, Independent, and in the Philadelphia North American, Press, Ledger, Inquirer, Age, Bulletin and Telegraph.

Shares of this company, to a limited number, may be obtained at $50 each, $10 payable down, $15 on the 1st of November, and $25 payable in monthly instalments of $2.50 each, commencing December 1, 1868, on application to

JOHN WALTON'S REVENGE.

"Be off from here you little beggars!" said Oscar Ronalds, imperiously.

The speaker was a well dressed boy of fourteen, and the words were addressed to a boy about his own age and his sister of eight. The contrast between outward appearance was striking. Oscar was of a light complexion, and looked like the petted child of the aristocracy. He held a club in his hand, which, it might be judged from his scowling face, he would not be unwilling to use.

John Walton, who confronted him without fear, was a stouter boy than Oscar. His complexion was dark, his hair, black as raven's wing, hung over his forehead. His clothing was coarse and well worn; his pants were tucked up nearly to his knees, and shoes and stockings were luxuries which he dispensed with. His little sister terrified by Oscar's rude manner, clung to her brother in affright.

"Don't be scared of him, Lizzie," said John. "He won't dare to touch you."

"Won't I though?" said Oscar, clutching his stick tighter.

"Not if you know what is best for yourself," said John, looking fixedly at him.

"You have no business here, you beggars," said Oscar furiously.

"I'm no beggar," said the barefooted boy, proudly.

"This is my father's land. Can you deny that?" demanded Oscar

"I know it is, and I suppose it will be your's some day."

"Then why have you intruded here?"

"I did not suppose it would be any harm to pick a few berries, which would otherwise decay on the vines."

"Then you know it now. I don't care for the berries, but I don't want any beggar's brats on my father's place."

"Stop there young master," said John, firmly. You called me a beggar, and I did not care much; but if you call my mother by that name, you will be sorry."

"I?" said Oscar very contemptuously. "What will you do?"

"I'll beat you with that stick you hold in your hand."

"Then I do call her a beggar," said Oscar, furiously. "What are you going to do about it?"

"You'll see."

John Walton let his sister's hand fall, and springing upon Oscar, he wrenched the stick from his hand, laid it over his back with sharp emphasis three times, and then threw it in the pond near by.

Leaving his young enemy prostrate, he took his terrified sister by the hand, saying:

"We'll go home now, Lizzie."

Oscar picked himself up, mortified and furious. He would have pursued John and wreaked instant vengeance upon him had he dared, but in the hands of the young savage, as he mentally characterized him, he had felt his own utter inability to cope with him, and resolved that vengeance should come in another form.

"My father shall turn the beggars out of house and home," he muttered. "I wish they might starve."

The father of Oscar Ronalds was the proprietor of a handsome house and large landed estate, including several tenements which he rented out. In the poorest of these lived John Walton and his mother. They lived poorly enough; how, it would be hard to tell, but at all events they lived and never sought help.

When John told the story of his encounter to his mother, she was disturbed, fearing that trouble might come of it. So, indeed, it did.

The next morning Squire Ronalds, with his stiff, erect figure, was seen approaching the widow's cottage.

Mrs. Walton opened the door.

"Won't yon come in, Squire Ronalds;" she said, nervously.

"No, madam, I have but a word to say, and that is soon said. Are you aware that your boy grossly insulted my son, yesterday?"

"He told me that Oscar called him names, and he knocked him down. He has a hasty temper."

"Your son is a ruffian ma'am."

"Not so bad as that. He is a good boy to me, Squire Ronalds."

"It is a pity he cannot treat others with respect."

"Do you think he was wholly to blame?"

"Certainly he was. My son caught him trespassing on my land, and he very properly ordered him off. I don't care to urge the matter. If he will apologize to Oscar, I will let it pass. Otherwise, as your month is up to-day, I shall require you to leave this tenement.

John, who had been inside aud heard what nad been said, came forward, looking resolute and self-sustained.

"I shall not apologize to Master Oscar, sir," he said. It is he who should apologize to me."

"Apologize to you! That would look well; would it not?" said the Squire scornfully.

"It would be right," said John, firmly.

"You are an impudent young rascal."

"Mother," said John, quietly, "there is no use listening further. I shall not apologize and am ready to take the consequences. Do not be alarmed. I will take care of you."

"You must leave this house to morrow," roared the Squire in undignified rage, stamping his gold-headed cane upon the grouud.

"Very well," said John. "Good day, sir," and John closed the door, leaving the Squire under a vague impression that he had got the worst of the encounter.

"What shall we do, John?" said Mrs. Walton, dismally.

I'll tell you mother. There is nothing for me to do here. We'll go to Brandon, where there are wooden mills. There I can get a chance to work, and I'll rise, never fear. It is best for us to go."

The next day Mrs. Walton's tenement was empty, and no one knew where the family had gone. Oscar exulted in what he regarded as his triumph.

Twenty years passed. To the barefooted boy they brought wonderful changes. At twenty-four he found himself superintendent of the mill where he had entered as a poor operative, earning a salary of five thousand dollars a year. He had built a handsome house, over which his mother presided with matroney dignity. His sister Lizzie was the wife of a young physician in successful practice in the same town.

One winter evening they were all seated in a luxuriously furnished room, before a glorious fire. His sister had come to spend the afternoon, but was prevented by the violent storm from returning to her own home.

"What a storm it is!" she exclaimed, wonderingly. "I pity those who are out in it."

"Yes," said her brother, "it is the most violent storm of the year. The snow must be two feet deep at least. But we need not feel troubled. It is summer in-doors."

"Who would have thought, John, that we should come to live in such comfort?" said his mother. "Twenty years ago we were poorly off."

"I well remember. It was a lucky thing we came to Brandon."

"So it has turned out. But I was alarmed when you quarreled with young Oscar Ronalds."

I have forgiven him. The harm he intended has only done us good."

"Have you heard of him lately?" she inquired.

"Not lately. His sister died ten years ago, and I'm told Oscar is very extravagant. That is all."

The storm increased in violence, shaking the house, firm and strong as it was. All at once the door bell rang sharply.

"I'll go myself," said John. "The servant may not be able to close the door again."

He opened the door and a sharp cutting wind entered with a flurry of snow.

"Will you give me shelter?" said a faint voice.

It was a man who spoke, still young. He stepped in quite exhausted, and John Walton closed the door.

"You have had a hard struggle in the storm, have you not?"

"I have indeed. I am chilled to the bone."

"Come to the fire," and John threw open the door of the sitting room.

He perceived that the stranger had no overcoat and appeared thoroughly chilled. Warm bricks were ordered, and in half an hour he was more comfortable. He looked thin and haggard. his face bore the impress of dissipation, He more than once looked earnestly at John Walton. Finally he said abruptly:

"Will you tell me your name? Your face looks familiar."

"My name is John Walton."

"What?" said the other, with a start. "Did you live, when a boy, in the town of M——?"

"Yes, but I don't remember you."

"I am Oscar Ronalds," said the other, in a low voice.

"Is it possible?" exclaimed the three, and they involuntarily glanced at the ill-clad stranger.

"I see what you are thinking of. I do not look much like the boy you used to know. I have been wild and extravagant, and lost and squandered all my property. I have gone down hill—you have gone up."

"I am sorry for your misfortunes," said John kindly. "If I can be of any service to you, I will."

"I came here hoping to get the post of clerk, which I understood was vacant. If I had known that you were here I would not have come."

"And why?"

"Because you cannot have forgotten my ill-treatment of you."

"It is not forgotten, but quite forgiven," said John Walton, kindly. "Unconsciously you did me a service. The clerkship you seek is mine to bestow. You shall have it, and I will guarantee your conduct. The salary will be small—only eight hundred dollars."

"It will be a fortune to me, who am penniless. God bless you, John Walton, for your generosity. You shall not find your confidence ill-bestowed."

I have no more to tell, except that then and there began a new and better life for Oscar, who was after a while promoted, and now has a modest and cheerful home of his own, with a good wife to add to his happiness. And this was John Walton's revenge—a noble and Christian revenge, the only one worth taking for an injury.

Bridal breakfast parties, two days before the wedding, to show off the presents, are a late invention.

A fashionable woman the other day undertook to make a sixty dollar bonnet for herself, and did it at a cost of two dollars and fifty cents.

While a clerk in the Boston post office was stamping a letter last week, it exploded, injuring his arm severely. The letter contained a quantity of percussion caps.

A single English colony has lately bought 30,000 acres of land in Kansas. The tract is to be divided among no fewer than 1,200 families, consisting of well-to-do farmers and artisans. German and Swedish colonists have also purchased largely.

TO LET—INQUIRE WITHIN.

The lady flounced out in a rage.

Two young damsels and a spinster aunt followed, and after a lengthy inspection of the premises, came to a state council in the parlor.

"I like the house very much," said spinster aunt solemnly, "and with a few alterations, I will engage it for my brother's family.

"Very well, ma'am," said Nahum, rubbing his hands, and scenting a speedy termination to his trials.—"Name 'em."

"The door handles must all be gilded, and I should like the house newly papered in velvet and gold, and repainted, and a partition between the parlors taken down and replaced by an arch and an extension dining-room built on behind, and a new style of range in the kitchen, and a dumb waiter put in, and new bronze chandeliers throughout, and—"

"Hold on, ma'am—just hold on one minute, said Nahum, feebly grasping for breath. "Wouldn't you like the old house carried away and a new one put up in its place? I think it would be rather less trouble than to make the trifling changes you suggest."

"Sir!" said the spinster loftily.

"I don't think we can agree ma'am."

"Very well—very well. Come, girls."

With prime dignity the lady marshalled her two charges out, muttering something about the "extraordinary ideas of landlords now-a-days."

While Nahum, wildly rumpling his iron-gray hair with his hands, soliloquized:

"Well, if Job had been alive, and had a house to let, there never would have been any book of Job written. There goes that everlasting bell again! I'll haul it out by the roots if this thing goes on much longer. I'll tear down the bill and put the place up at auction."

Another lady—but quite different from the other—a slender little cast down lady, with a head that dropped like a lilly of the valley, and a dress of brown silk, that had been mended and turned and re-trimmed, and even Nahum Briggs, man and bachelor though he was, could see how shabby it was. Yet she was pretty, with big blue eyes and shining brown hair, and cheeks tinged with a fair fleeting color, where the velvet roses of youth had once bloomed in vived carmine. And a golden haired little lassie clung to her dress, as the tiny lilly buds to a blooming chime of flower-bells.

As Nahum Briggs stood looking at her, there came back to him the sunny days of youth, a field of blooming clover crimsoned the June light like waves of blood, and a blue-eyed girl leaning over the fence with her bright hair barred with level sunset gold, and he knew that he was standing face to face with Barbara Wylie, the girl that he had quarreled with years and years ago, and whose blue eyes had kept him an old bachelor all his life long.

"This house is to let I believe?" she asked, timidly, with a little quiver in her mouth.

"I believe it is, Barbara Wylie."

She looked up, starting with a sudden flush of recognition. And then Barbara turned very pale and began to weep, with the little golden-haired girl clinging to her skirts, and wailing:

"Mamma, mamma—what's the matter, mamma?"

"Nothing now," said Barbara, resolutely brushing away the tears.

"If you please, Mr. Briggs, I will look at the house; I am a widow now, and very poor, and I am thinking of keeping a boarding-house to earn my daily bread. I hope the rent is not very high."

"We'll talk about the rent afterward," said Nahum, fiercely swallowing down a big lump in his throat that threatened to choke him.

"Come here, little girl, and kiss me; I used to know your mother when she wasn't bigger than you are."

Barbara, with her blue eyes still drooping, went all over the house without finding a word of fault, and Nahum Briggs walked at her side, wondering if it was really fifteen years since the June sunshine lay so brightly on the clover field.

"I think the honse is beautiful," said meek Barbara. "Will you rent it to me, Nahum?"

Well yes," said Nahum, thoughtfully. "I'll let you have my house if you want it, Barbara."

"With the privilege of keeping a few boarders?"

"No, ma'am!"

Barbara stopped and looked wistfully at him.

"But, I don't think you understand how poor I am Mr. Briggs."

"Yes, I do."

"And that I cannot afford to take the house without the privilege of boarders?"

"I tell you what Barbara," said Mr. Briggs, dictatorially. "I'll give you the privilege of keeping just one boarder, and him, you have got keep all your life long, if you once take him."

"I don't think I quite understand you, Nahum Briggs," said Barbara, but she blushed very becomingly, and we are rather inclined to think that she told a naughty little fib.

"What do you say to me for a boarder, Barbara?" said the old bachelor, taking the widows hands in his. "Barbara, we were young fools once, but that is no reason why we should be old fools now. I like you just as well now as ever I did, and I'll do my best to be a good husband to you, and a good father to your little girl if you'll be my wife."

Barbara blushed again, and hesitated, but Nahum was not obliged to be deluded thus.

"Shall I take down the sign 'To Let,' Barbara?"

"Yes," she murmured, almost under her breath.

So Nahum went deliberately out, and coolly tore down the bill, to the great astonishment and disappointment of a party of ratid house-hunters, who were just ascending the steps.

"And when shall we be married, Barbara!" he next demanded.

"In the summer, perhaps," said Barbara slyly.

"To-morrow," said Nahum, decisively, and to-morrow it was.

"Upon my word Barbara," said Nahum, on the first day of May, as he watheed his wife behind the coffee urn, you can't think how much jollier it is with you for a house-keeper than that old hag, Mrs. Parley."

Barbara only laughed, and said, "he was a dear good old stupid."

So the probabilities are that neither Mr. Naham Briggs nor his brown-stone house will be in the market again, "To let—inquire within."

A Murderer and Bigamist Arrested after Thirty Years' Concealment.

The Dubuque Times has the following: For the last fifteen or twenty years there has lived, about a dozen of miles south of this city, a farmer named Costello, who, in his own community, and among those with whom he was acquainted, has enjoyed the reputation of being an upright, honorable, and fair-dealing man. Matters prospered well on his farm; he was all attention to his duties, and was considered a good husband and father.

Costello was born in Ireland, and lived there until manhood. He had settled down, and rejoiced in the possession of a wife and several children. But an unlucky day came, when, in a dispute, which we will hope was caused by temper or liquor, and not in cold blood, he struck the blow which made him a fratricide—a brother murderer, an outlaw, and a fugitive from justice. Escaping the officers of the law, he fled the country, embark d on an emigrant ship, and came to America.

After many years of rambling thro' this country, he came to Dubuque, where, by industry and economy, he succeeded in securing a good farm.—Meantime, his wife and children still remained in the old country, entirely ignorant of his whereabouts. He could not write to have them come out to America, for that would only lead to his discovery, and bring him surely to the gallows. So he adds another, the crime of bigamy, to that of fratricide, by taking a wife, and, unhappily, has brought others into the world to share his shame.

But his terrible secret has at last crept out. Last week his nephew, the son of the murdered brother, arrived here, and, after securing the necessary legal papers, proceeded to the farm of Costello and had him arrested for the murder committed thirty years ago. He is now on the way to Ireland to be tried, and if no circumstances can be adduced to justify the fratricide, to suffer for it to the full extent.

ANIMAL SAGACITY.

In Indianapolis, a few days ago, a rare exhibition of animal sagacity was exhibited by the elephants of Baily & Co.'s great combination. There are two elephants—mother and baby—with the caravan. When the elephants arrived at the bridge the large one refused to enter the long dark covered way; and the little one of course clung to its dam. The latter however, seemed to explain the matter to it with a few touches of the trunk, and the little one came over the bridge alone. The monster elephantess backed and took water, but instead of going above the bridge where the bank is most sloping on the side of the river, it went below, to the astonishment of all, where the bank is almost perpindicular. Instead of coming directly across, it obliqued to about 100 yards below, where the excavation for the foundation of a building had been almost to the water's edge. Although the way of egress was not visible from the bridge as the cut strikes, the river at an angle down stream, the sagacious animal doubtless saw the track made by the horses and wagons and argued that there must be a way out, and acted accordingly.

On Cunningham's run, Harrison county, West Virginia, a disease called typhus flux, has been making terrible ravages. The Clarksburg Conservative states that a daughter of Walter Cunningham, aged six years, died on the 29th of August, on the day following, her brother, aged about sixteen, on September 1, another brother, aged about fourteen; on the 7th, another brother, aged about 8, and on the 8th still another brother, making in one family five victims in little more than a month.

INVESTIGATE!

It is charged that the re-election of Geary was secured by the manipulation of election returns in Philadelphia and Luzerne county and by other fraudulent practices. The Democratic papers in Philadelphia, the Age and the Evening Herald, have asserted that Judge Packer received a majority of the legal votes cast for Governor in that city, and that the apparent majority for Geary is trumped up and factitious. These charges should be investigated. We are tired of the cry of "fraud!" "fraud!" raised after each successive election, by the defeated party. In 1867 the Radicals insisted that Judge Sharswood was elected by illegal and unfair means, but made no effort to show that what they asserted was true. In 1863 the Democrats claimed that Woodward was defeated by unlawful appliances, yet no attempt was made to establish the fact. There should be an end of this. The defeated party should acknowledge the triumph of its adversary, or, if it claims such triumphs to have been obtained by foul means, it should resort to the proper legal measures to redress its wrongs, which are as well the wrongs of the people. We were beaten in the late election. This much is certain. If we were fairly beaten, let us admit the unpleasant fact and look to the future for a better result. If we were cheated, it is our duty to contend for our rights and to vindicate them at all hazards. Owing to the representations of the Democratic press in Philadelphia, the masses of the party sincerely believe that Geary's alleged majority is fraudulent, and out of this belief has grown a general sentiment in favor of contesting the election. True there are not many so sanguine as to hope that Geary may be ousted and Packer placed in the gubernatorial seat, for few have any confidence in the fairness of the Radical legislature before which such a contest must be tried. But it is thought that an investigation should be had, in order that the corrupt practices of the Radical managers in Philadelphia and elsewhere may be exposed and the purity of the ballot-box vindicated. We, therefore, hope that the State Committee will see to it that the proper petition for a contest is filed, and that other necessary preparations are made for a thorough investigation of the alleged frauds by the Radicals at the late election. If ballot-box stuffing, manipulation of election papers and wholesale disfranchisement of precincts and districts, are to be the rule, the public should know it as soon as possible. Let us lay the ax at the root of the supposed evil, or cease to complain of its existence. If we make no effort to right the wrong, we deserve to be the victims of the imposture which we denounce but fear to grapple with in earnest. What says the Democratic press of the State. Shall we investigate, or content ourselves with idle complaints?

Gov. Holden of North Carolina is engaged in carrying out a plan of operations in regard to the organization of negro militia which is creating a great deal of excitement amongst the people of that State. What his actual intentions are has not transpired, but from the secresy of his movements the people have been led to anticipate consequences far from being agreeable to themselves. What the assembling of these negro troops means has not yet been developed, but it seems remarkable that there should be any occasion for convening them, and the reasons why and wherefore be unknown to the public generally.

The cool assurance with which many radical newspapers of the State insert the name of Edward Scull instead of that of Hiram Findlay in the lists of State Senators, would indicate that their editors, at least, would not hesitate to commit the outrage of throwing away the vote of an entire election district because of mere informality, in order to gain a party advantage. We have a reason to believe that there is a strong majority in the Senate, which could not be induced to carry into effect such a dishonest scheme, even if the attempt were made.

President Grant's endless peregrinations have earned for that functionary the sobriquet of "The Great American Traveler." Daniel Pratt and the Immortal J. N., consequently, both consider themselves in the line of succession as candidates for the radical nomination for the Presidency.

The Puritans of Massachusetts, instead of eating roast turkey and rejoicing generally on Thanksgiving Day, propose to employ the time in fasting and prayer. If the rest of the people will not agree with them, they intend to have another day appointed to carry out their views of thanksgiving.

TOWN vs. COUNTRY.

Governor Hoffman, of New York, recently delivered an address before an Agricultural Society, which, though highly colored and poetical in the main, contained some suggestions of very practical value to farmers. He enforced the advantages arising from a liberal education, the advisability of rendering their homes pleasant and attractive, and gave rather glowing descriptions of the advantages enjoyed by the husbandman over his fellow-laborer—the artisan. The most pertinent point of his address, however, was contained in his advice to the sons of farmers against abandoning the slow and certain success of agricultural pursuits for the uncertain and wearing ones of city commercial life. This counsel was never more needed or applicable than at present, when every description of trade and commerce is duller than usual in our large towns. The number of clerks, book-keepers and salesmen out of employment forms a very large proportion of our population, and the number daily increases as business becomes more depressed. Considering the healthy, invigorating results of a farmer's life, and its absolutely certain profits, it is more than doubtful that it is good to abandon it at any time for the feverish, uncertain hopes of reward held out by the city; but at present, when, for every vacant clerkship, there are a hundred applicants, it is folly for the young farmer to think of exchanging the country for the town. He is not wanted here, and he is wanted there; it is nothing to urge that the fall harvests are garnered; that he has nothing to do about the farm, and that he may find work in the city for his idle hands to do. In both cases he is apt to be mistaken; about the farm there is always work to be done—work that is healthy alike for body and soul. But while employment is only a bare possibility here, want of it is a fact that stares thousands in the face, and plunges hundreds into the way of temptation and vice.

As for embarking in any business at present that requires capital, the investment would hardly be considered judicious, unless supported by experience and knowledge of trade, neither of which young farmers would be likely to have. In any case, however, the risk would be great while business remains in its present flat condition, and, undoubtedly, those who take Governor Hoffman's advice, and stick to the plow, will be doing the wisest thing possible.—City Exchange

In every report of the Secretary of the Treasury, we are informed of a large amount of capital laying idle—of gold and silver and greenbacks. What good does that amount do the country in its hoarded piles? Why not put it to use? All the government absolutely needs, is sufficient for ordinary outlay and expenses; beyond that every dollar should be used to reduce the debt and relieve the taxation.

We are paying heavy interest on the millions now laying idle in the Treasury vaults. Is there an honest farmer or business man in the country that would mortgage his property to the amount of millions at a heavy per centage, while he had the capital laying idle in bank?

The country is suffering in business for the want of capital; let the Treasurer pay it out.

Who was the Philadelphia accountant employed by Gov. Geary to cipher out the defalcation in Ex-State Treasurer Kemble's accounts, so strongly suspected by his Excellency, and what did his figures prove? Some people want to know.

The Lady's Friend.—The November number of this popular monthly has a life-like steel plate of "The Sisters," such sisters as may be found in many a sweet American home. The Colored Fashion Plate is gay and stylish. A romantic picture, illustrating "Herrick's Night Piece to Julia," and a group of "Dresses for Young Ladies," in which that important portion of humanity will find some loves of toilettes, introduce a series of uncommonly taking illustrations. The music is "The Little Injun Galop." The publishers offer great inducements to new subscribers, and we recommend our readers to inclose ten cents for a sample copy, to Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut Street, Philadelphia.

The November number of "Peterson's Magazine" is already on our table. It has a beautiful steel engraving, "The Messenger of Love," illustrating a powerfully written story. The colored steel fashion plate is one of the most beautiful we have ever seen. Specimen copies of "Peterson's Magazine" are sent gratis to those wishing to get up clubs. Now is the time to get up clubs for 1870. Address, Chas. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut Steet, Philadelphia, Pa.

The forests are dying out in some parts of Virginia. The chestnut trees have already submitted to some deleterious agency, and their growth is nearly exhausted, and this year the oak and in fact all the trees of the forest in certain sections are dying. No explanation of this disastrous visitation has yet been given.

Thus far this year the arrival of foreign immigrants at New York has averaged over 1,000 per day.

ANOTHER HORROR!

AN Appalling Disaster—Over 200 lives lost.

Chicago, October 28.—A special from Carbondale, Illinois, says that the steamer Stonewall, which left St. Louis on Tuesday evening for New Orleans, heavily laden with passengers, horses, mules, hay, and other freight generally, last night about eight o'clock, when near Neely's Landing, ten miles from Grand Tower, took fire, and despite all efforts to save her, was burned to the water's edge. When the fire broke out every effort was made to land, but the steamer was so heavily laden that she could not be brought nearer than one hundred yards of the shore. Great confusion and terror prevailed. There were about two hundred cabin and deck passengers aboard, quite a number of whom were women and children. The flames spread with great rapidity.

Scores of men sprung into the water and attempted to reach the shore by swimming. Nearly all these were lost. Every conceivable object that could be obtained was thrown into the water, and to those the passengers clung with all the tenacity of life.

The steamer Belle Memphis, Capt. Cranly, on her way to St. Louis, reached the scene during the fire and picked up from the water all that are known to be saved. The pilot, engineer, stoker, carpenter and forty-four passengers are known to be saved. The captain, clerks and other officers, deckhands and many passengers were lost. All the books and papers of the boat were lost, as also were the cattle and other freight on board. A number of persons died after reaching the shore, from exposure in the water. There was no explosion. All of the women and children were lost—nearly if not all being burned to death.

The conduct of the passengers and officers is said to have been heroic.

Such an appalling scene has not been witnessed on the Mississippi for many years. The saved were kindly cared for by the officers of the Belle of Memphis, and were carried to St. Louis. The number lost is over two hundred.

Three Boys hold a Fourth over a Fire and Roast Him.

We have heard of an act perpetrated on the 20th inst., near this borough, which surpasses in cool ferocity and fiendishness anything that ever took place in this country. It seems that on that day, three boys belonging to this borough or Mt. Carbon, it is not yet definitely known, went out on the road between this borough and Cressona, until they reached a point about a mile beyond Hillside. About a quarter of a mile from the house of a laborer named Hornickel, several children were playing, among them his son Frederick, between 11 and 12 years of age. The boys when they reached this spot, built a fire, seized and dragged Frederick to it, and most horrible to state, held the little boy over it, until he was actually roasted. When found the injured boy was in a terrible condition, and it is feared that he is burned internally by inhaling the flames. He has not been able to talk since the occurrence and is in a critical condition.

We understand that the motive for the inhuman act is supposed to have revenge for information that Frederick had given of some boys who had recently robbed a neighbor's spring house.

One arrest has been made, and after a partial hearing before Squire Frailey the accused was held for a further hearing on Wednesday next.

That mere boys should be guilty of such a fiendish act seems incomprehensible, but the facts of the case are to that effect If discovered and convicted, the incarceration in the prison for a lifetime would not be too severe a punishment.—Miner's Journal.

Upwards of One Hundred Indians Burned to Death.

The Sioux City Times learns from Captain Hill, commander of Fort Rice the details of one of the most harrowing tales of loss of life by fire that has ever came within the range of later-day occurrences. About five weeks since a band of the "Sioux," under "Little Bear" were camped on the South side of the Missouri river above Fort Rice. A large number of squaws with their papooses accompanied the Indians. They camped for the night, and not thinking of danger, had all gone to sleep; about midnight the prairie contiguous to their lodges was set on fire, and before the alarm could be given, or measures taken to save their lives, about one hundred were consumed in the flames, together with a considerable amount of dried meats, and such articles as they usually carry with them, or use while in camp; about seventy ponies, were likewise burned, the others made their escape by being driven to a place of safety.

Appletons's Illustrated Almanac for 1870 is the most elegantly-illustrated publication of the kind issued in America. Its brilliantly-tinted cover, and its numerous illustrations, from original designs by American artists, make it in pictorial attractions supremely beautiful. It is edited by Miss Susan Fenimore Cooper, one of the most agreeable writers on rural subjects that we have. The price of this most elegant volume is only thirty cents, which remitted to D. Appleton & Co., New York, will secure a coppy by return mail, post-paid.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint, and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver, and put it to work: then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe, a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall-bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care), that will unlock the gall-bladder and starts the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the Alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills, or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has Consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood: then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

When there is no lung disease, and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompanying each, make it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless the patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond Street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists.

HUNTINGDON AND BROAD TOP R. R.—WINTER ARRANGEMENT.—TIME TABLE.—On and after Sept. 13th, passenger trains will arrive and depart as follows:

In great demand—good butter.

Huntingdon has a new brass band.

Query—What is the Railroad Committee doing?

The coal trade is on the increase in this town.

Stunning—the new style of gentlemen's neckties.

Huntingdon has a public hall. When shall this be said of Bedford.

The regular term of Court commences on Monday, Nov. 15.

The turkey market will be brisk, as Thanksgiving day approaches.

Juliana street is receiving a coat of limestone.

The new county bridge at Williams', in Napier tp., will be finished this month.

The radical brew at Harrisburg has "busted" Geary's cabinet. He kicked out one Brewster and took in another.

The pavements on Juliana street are being laid, "two by one." Slow but sure, we hope.

The business on the Broad Top railroad is represented as being in a flourishing condition.

Valuable timber lands, near Bedford are offered for sale by Job Mann, Esq. See advertisement.

Canines are cursedly plenty in this village, and some of them have dogmatical ideas on the propriety of inserting teeth, which we do not admire.

Coon parties are plenty hereabouts, but the coons captured are scarce. That "same old coon" proves too many for the boys.

If good locals were as plenty as poor gossip, our readers would have a treat every week. Such as we can gather, we give.

Country Merchants wishing to lay in a stock of school books will find it to their advantage to call at the Inquirer Book Store before they purchase elsewhere. 2t.

The side walk from Spang's corner to the court house is a miserable failure in wet weather. Something should be done to improve its condition before winter.

Under roof—the magnificent building of J. M. Shoemaker. When finished, it will be one of the finest improvements in Bedford.

The Bedford House, J. J. Shoemaker, proprietor, has lately undergone improvements, which have enhanced its appearance wonderfully.

In speaking of the frequent disarrangments of our water works, a friend remarked that "if Bedford had two such water works the supply would dwindle down to nothing."

A thoroughly civilized Indian can be seen in front of Crouse's Resort, inviting all to call in and see Dan's stock. The stock is unsurpassed in quality and quantity.

Now is the time to secure a homestead. Remember Mrs. Brashear's sale of Town Lots, on Walnut Hill, on Thursday, Nov. 11th, 1869.

This cold weather has signed the death warrant of those abominable pests—flies. They have been sent "up in a balloon, boys!"

On the 5th inst., Mr. David Peterson dropped dead in a field near Shirleysburg. He had been sewing clover seed.

A Johnstown paper boasts that the ladies of that place the have prettiest feet of any city under the sun. That may be so, but Bedford ladies have the prettiest faces in creation. That question has been settled long ago.

J. R. Donehoo, Esq., formerly of the Fulton Democrat, has purchased the Indiana Democrat—J. B. Sansom's paper. We wish the new and the retiring editor abundant success.

The editor of the Fulton Democrat has formed an "entangling alliance" with one of the fair maidens of that county. How an editor could do such a thing these hard times, we cannot divine.

D. W. Crouse has just returned from the east with the largest stock of Tobacco, Segars, Pipes, &c., ever brought to Bedford. Call and see for yourselves.

From the fact that fires are frequent it is very important to have one's property insured. To secure indemnity against loss by fire, call on Jno. G. Fisher, at the Bedford Insurance Agency. None but good companies represented.

Scull, the defeated candidate for Senator of this district, is making some very lame attempts to explain why he ran so far behind his ticket in Somerset county. The best reason the people have given is that they would not vote for him on election day.

Mr. James B. McMullen, formerly of this place, and late division superintendent of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis Telegraph, was made the recipient of a magnificent gold watch, at Stubenville, by the operators and employees under his charge.

THANKSGIVING.—Thursday, Nov. 18th, is Thanksgiving day.

General Grant has ordered it, and Governor Geary has so proclaimed, "supplementarily" and officially.

The things for which we are to be thankful are specially set forth in a schedule thereunto attached. "Only this and nothing more."

Mr. President, we would respectfully beg leave to amend "the aforesaid," as follows, to wit

All loil men, women and children, including Africans, Chinese and Indians, not taxed, should be specially grateful, that radicalism has not been swept from the face of the earth forever.

The friends of Grant should be thankful for the presents of houses, town lots, horses, carriages, cigars and pups, received by that junketing functionary.

The friends of Geary should be thankful that the reign of the "humbuggedest" has been perpetuated.

That the honest hearted yeomanry of this noble old Commonwealth have, by stupendous frauds, been prevented from driving a corrupt and imbecile man from power.

That the bles-ings of a free and pure ballot, vouchsafed to our race by the laws of our fathers, have been turned into a curse by the base manipulations of our partisan rulers.

The nation at large should be thankful that a great number of the citizens of our beloved country are still groaning under the heavy yoke of a military despotism.

We believe in giving thanks.

We know that we should praise our Creator for life, health and prosperity, and every blessing which we enjoy.

But we do not believe in being "most earnestly advised" to do so by a party in "high authority" whose every step to power is marked by base fraud, low intrigue and vile corruption.

Neither do we believe in a Proclamation of Thanksgiving, which bears on its very face, misstatements and falsehoods.

For it is not true, that "civil and religious liberty are secured to every inhabitant of this land."

It is well known that to oppose, in a certain section of our country, the political whims of the "powers that be," is to be a slave.

Is this the "civil liberty" for which we are to be thankful?

National Thanksgivings have become national humbugs.

The day has become one of feasting, pastime and revelry.

There is something radically wrong, which the present manner of observing Thanksgiving day will never set at right. It lies in the hearts of the people.

But there is one thing for which we should be thankful in all sincerity.

We should rejoice and give thanks that our national wickedness has not caused us to be wiped out as a nation before the heavens.

And for this we cannot be too thankful.

ANTHRACITE COAL.—We call the attention of consumers of that article to the advertisement of Mitchell & Haggerty, in to-day's paper. Persons who use anthracite coal cannot do better than send their orders to Mitchell & Haggerty.

An Agricultural and Mechanical Fair will be held in Cumberland, on the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th of this month. Extensive preparations have been made and the affair promises to be one of more than usual interest.

They come! they come! and whither shall I fly? Why, as winter approaches, go to Garwood's Regulator (Irvine's old stand) and get your boots and shoes. A good pair of boots or shoes is essentially necessary to prevent colds and other ills. Garwood's is the place to get the goods.

Mr. John W. Knox, of Boydstown, received a premium at the Hollidaysburg Fair, for the best two horse wagon. John knocks them all in getting up a good wagon.

The Orphans Home Lodge, I. O. of O. F. of Williamsburg, will dedicate their splendid new Hall on the 4th inst. Dr. C. N. Hickok, of this place, will deliver the address and assist in the dedicatory ceremonies.

The contract for building a new turnpike bridge across the Juniata, in "The Narrows," below Bedford, has been awarded to a Mr. Bell of Harrisburg, for $5,800. The work is to be completed about the first of January, next.

The new church, erected under the auspices of the Reformed congregation at New Paris, this county, will be dedicated to the services of God, on Saturday, Nov. 6th., at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Delinquents will please notice by the yellow slip pasted on their paper to what date their subscription has been paid. They will thus be enabled to ascertain how much they owe us.

A new post office has been lately established in St. Clair township, at Beckley's store. The new office is called "Six Roads," from the fact that six roads run together at that place.

STORE BURNED.—On last Thursday week, the store and contents of the Messrs. Wishart, of Wells Valley, Fulton county, were destroyed by fire. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

Some rude rascal, who feared neither man nor "devil," recently stole the overcoat and dress coat of an Altoona editor. A man that would steal anything from an editor is capable of doing the meanest act mentioned in the catalogue of crimes.

Cornman, of the Huntingdon Monitor, says he has been swindled, to the tune of twelve dollars, by a traveling conjuror, named Signor Rubini. The loss of greenbacks is not so deplorable, but to be "taken in" by a Rub-in-i is doubly cruel. No wonder Cornman is cross.

NEW SCHOOL HOUSES.—Bedford township has lately been erecting new school houses, which are a credit alike to the Directors and builders. The one on "Walnut Hill," just outside the borough limits, is certainly a fine country school house. The builder, Mr. B. F. Harclerode, did his work faithfully, and took no advantage of the public as a great many contractors are known to do. Improvements like those in Bedford township are much needed to take the place of the miserable pens which are to be seen in every school district in the county.

REAL ESTAT SALES.—The following sales of real estate have lately been made in this neighborhood:

Patterson's Administrator, a fine mill property and 80 acres, to H. F. Weber for $7,650.

Riley's Trustees, a farm in Juniata tp., to Wm. Riley, for $3,800.

COLBURN'S PATENT
RED JACKET AXE.

Is better than our regular shaped Axes for these reasons. First—It cuts deeper. Second—It don't stick in the Wood. Third—It does not jar the hand. Fourth—No time is wasted in taking the Axe out of the cut. Fifth—With the same labor you will do one third more work than with regular Axes. Red paint has nothing to do with the good qualities of this Axe, for all our Axes are painted red. If your hardware store does not keep our goods, we will gladly answer inquiries or fill your orders direct, or give you the name of the nearest dealer who keeps our Axes.

OUR NEW FAMILY SEWING MACHINE.

The superior merits of the "Singer" Machines over all others, for either Family use or Manufacturing purposes, are so well established and so generally admitted, that an enumeration of their relative excellences is no longer considered necessary.

OUR NEW FAMILY MACHINE,

which has been brought to perfection regardless of time, labor, or expense, is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the Best Sewing Machine in existence. The machine in question is Simple, Compact, Durable and Beautiful. It is quiet, light running, and never before attempted upon a single Machine,—using either SILK, TWIST, LINEN OR COTTON THREAD, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and coarsest materials, and anything between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for Hemming, Braiding, Cording, Tucking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming, Binding, etc., are Novel and Practical, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this Machine.

New designs of the Unique, Useful, and Popular Folding Tops and Cabinet Cases, peculiar to the Machines manufactured by this Company, have been prepared for enclosing the new Machine.

A faint idea, however, can at best be conveyed through the medium of a (necessarily) limited advertisement; and we therefore urge every person in quest of a Sewing Machine, by all means to examine and test, if they can possibly do so, all the leading rival Machines before making a purchase. A selection can then be made understandingly. Branches or agencies for supplying the "Singer" Machines will be found in nearly every city and town throughout the civilized world, where Machines will be cheerfully exhibited, and any information promptly furnished. MIDDLETON'S

WONDERFUL PAIN CURE

A sure remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Growing Pains, Sprains, Bruises, Stiffnes, of the Joints and all similar diseases.

This wonderful remedy is composed entirely of vegetable ingredients. There are no injurious substances used in its manufacture.

For assurance of its excellent properties, read the following certificates:

BEDFORD, May 8, 1869.

I take great pleasure in giving my testimony to the value of "Middleton's Wonderful Pain Cure." I have been a martyr to Rheumatism. For two months previous to Feb. 25th, last, I was suffering intensely with pain so severe, that during all that time I had not one night of comfortable sleep. I could not put my hands to my face, could not comb my own hair, nor feed myself; but after having the Pain Cure applied once, I found relief enough to give me comfortable sleep, and with its steady use, I continued to get better, and now at the end of ten weeks from its first application, I have comparatively free use of my hands, sleep well and can attend to business. It has done me more good than all other medicines I have ever used put together, and I cheerfully give this certificate of its value.

ELI M. FISHER.

BEDFORD, April 14, 1869.

Mr. W. W. Middleton,
This is to certify that I was taken with Rheumatism, in my right shoulder, on the evening of the 8th inst., so that I was unable to raise my hand to my face. I got some of your Pain Cure and applied it twice, and was entirely relieved. I would recommend to every one who suffers with Rheumatism to give it a trial and be cured.

Yours &c., A. F. MILLER.

BEDFORD, May 17, 1869.

Mr. Middleton,
DEAR SIR ---I have used several bottles of your medicine in my family, and find it to be all you claim for it. Yours, truly,

JOHN HAFER.

BEDFORD, May 13, 1869.

This is to certify that I have used "Middleton's Pain Cure," for Rheumatism, and was very much benefited by it. JOHN HARRIS.

BEDFORD, May 18, 1869.

This is to certify that I have used Middleton's Liniment, for the Rheumatism which I had in my right shoulder so bad that I could not get my hand to my head without great pain, and after a few applications was entirely relieved.

L. F. DART.

BEDFORD, May 1, 1869.

Mr Middleton,
Dear Sir:— Mrs. Bowser was in much suffering for some four weeks with Rheumatism, and got some of your Pain Cure, and the first night I applied it it eased the pain; and after keeping on using it for two weeks, she was restored to health. I feel it to be my duty, as it is a pleasure, to write this recommendation for the benefit of others. JACOB BOWSER.

BEDFORD, May 16. 1869.

Mr W. W. Middleton:
Sir—I procured a bottle of your Liniment for Rheumatism, and it gives me great pleasure in saying that after using it for two days, my rheumatism was completely relieved. My sister was suffering, at the same time, with Inflamatory Rheumatism in her right hand and wrist—after using it for several days she was relieved. I consider it the best remedy I ever heard of.

JOHN KEEFE

BEDFORD, May 24, 1869.

This is to certify that I have used one bottle of Middleton's Liniment, for Rheumatism, and think it a good cure, and would recommend it to all persons that are afflicted with the above disease.

NATURE'S GREAT RESTORER.

SCHEETZ'S

CELEBRATED

BITTER CORDIAL

This medical preparation is now offered to the public as a reliable substitute for the many worthless compounds which now flood the market. It is purely vegetable, composed of various herbs, gathered from the great storehouse of nature, and selected with the utmost care. It is not recommended as a CURE ALL, but by its direct and salutary influence upon the Heart, Liver, Kidneys, Lungs, Stomach and Bowels, it acts both as a preventive and cure for many of the diseases to which those organs are subject. It is a reliable Family Medicine, and can be taken by either infant or adult with the same beneficial results It is a certain, prompt and speedy remedy for DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, BOWEL COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA, LOWNESS OF SPIRITS, FAINTINGS, SICK-HEADACHE, &c. For Chills and Fevers of all kinds, it is far better and safer than quinine, without any of its pernicious effects. It creates an appetite, proves a powerful digester of food, and will counteract the effects of liquor in a few minutes.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR,

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

THE GREAT DESIDERATUM OF THE AGE.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

HAIR DRESSING,

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one Medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, LISTLESSNESS, LANGUOR and LOSS of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For LIVER COMPLAINT and its various symptoms, BILLIOUS HEADACHE, SICK HEADACHE, JAUNDICE or Green SICKNESS, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For DYSENTERY or DIARRHŒA, but one mild dose is generally required.

For RHEUMATISM, GOUT, GRAVEL, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, PAIN IN THE SIDE, BACK and LOINS, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For DROPSY and DROPSICAL SWELLINGS they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For SUPPRESSION a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a DINNER PILL, take one or two pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these PILLS makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

MUSICAL DOINGS,—Since Mr. Waters gave up publishing sheet music, he has devoted his whole capital and attention to the manufacture and sale of Pianos and Melodeons. He has just issued a catalogue of his new instruments, giving a new scale of prices, which shows a marked reduction from former rates, and his Pianos have recently been awarded the First Premium at several Fairs. Many people of the present day, who are attracted, if not confused, with the flaming adeertisements of rival piano houses, probably overlook the modest manufacturer like Mr. Waters; but we happen to know that his instruments earned him a good reputation long before Expositions and "honors" connected therewith were ever thought of; indeed, we have one of Mr. Waters' Pianofortes now in our residence (where it has stood for many years,) of which any manufacturer in the world might well be proud. We have always been delighted with its sweet-toned and powerful instrument, and there is no doubt of its durability; more than this, some of the best amateur players in the city, as well as several celebrated pianists, have performed on the same piano, and all pronounce it a superior and first-class instrument. Stronger endorsement we could not give.—Home Journal. jan15,'69.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE OOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this Sarsaparilla: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weak
